JAP DELEGATES SEE WILSON

PROBABLY DISCUSS QUESTION OF OWNERSHIP OF KIAO CHAU.

By the Associated Press
PARIS, April 29.—Before meeting with the council of three this morning President Wilson received Baron Makino, head of the Japanese mission, and Viscount Chinda, his colleague. Their conference lasted nearly an hour. Presumably the question of the final disposition of Kiao Chau, the German colony in China captured by the Japanese early in the war.

The council at the beginning of the session received the committee from the Belgian cabinet and gave it a hearing on the indemnities question.

Baron Makino and Viscount Chinda remained with the council throughout its session which was a protracted one.

LODGE AND CURTIS ASK SILENCE ON LEAGUE OF NATIONS UNTIL CONFERENCES.

By the Associated Press
WASHINGTON, April 29.—Telegrams were sent to all Republican leaders today by Senators Lodge of Mass., floor leader, and Curtis of Kansas, whiplash asking that expressions of opinion on the League of Nations covenant be withheld until a Republican conference could decide the attitude to be adopted. It was understood that no date has been fixed for the conference.

NORMAL BASEBALL TEAM DEFEATS ROFF

The E. C. S. N. baseball team won the game at Roff with the high school team of that place by a score of 3 to 1 Monday afternoon. The Roff boys put up a good game but the Normal team played in good form and outmatched their opponents as indicated by the score.

MRS. BAKER OF STRATFORD PASSES TO BEYOND

Mrs. R. P. Baker, mother of Mrs. M. F. Bayless of Stratford, died Monday night at 8:30 at the home of her daughter. Deceased was born in Kentucky in 1865. She was reared for the most part of her life in Paris, Texas, where she lived until one year ago when she went to live with her daughter, Mrs. Bayless. Death was caused from cancer of the stomach, from which she had suffered long.

One of her fondest hopes was realized when she was permitted to live until she might clasp the hand of her youngest son, Henry Baker, who returned from France two weeks ago where he had been in the service of his country for more than a year.

When the death angel came Monday on the wings of eventide to wait her white soul to the land of the beyond, it was with a smile that she greeted the messenger for she was weary of life's struggle and was anxious for her journey here to end, so that she might find peace and rest in that celestial city.

The body was brought to Ada today and shipped on the 1:45 Frisco to Paris for interment.

HOMER ITEMS.

The Easter egg hunt Monday afternoon was enjoyed by all the pupils. A prize was awarded to Clinton Roberts and Jimmie Reece West for finding the golden egg. The good neighbors of the neighborhood came in and hid the eggs, as is their custom.

Ye Olde Tyme community spelling school was the order of the evening on Friday last. Several who have not seen a spelling book for several years took the floor alongside their children and neighbors' children.

George James, who has been with the A. E. F. in France for the past year, returned home last week. His many friends are much pleased to greet him once more.

The basket ball game Friday played between Homer and the training school resulted in the following score: Girls: Homer 30, Ada 8; Boys: Homer 2, Ada 4. The game was played on the Homer grounds and a majority of the community were present.

Friday, May 2, will be our last day of school. A program is to be rendered at night. Everybody cordially invited.

Sunday School attendance is better since the approach of springtime. Let the good work go on. Miss Susan Cook and Mr. Salmon Corbett were married at 2 p. m. Sunday, Justice Anderson officiating.

JOHNSON AND SUGGS SPEAK

MAKE STRONG PLEAS FOR ADOPTION OF GOOD ROADS MEASURE.

Senator Johnson, in his speech favoring the road bonds delivered in the streets of Ada Monday afternoon, paid some attention to former Governor Lee Cruce who is opposing the bonds. Using an article from Cruce taken from the Oklahoman, he replied to various features and challenged Cruce's claim to being a broad minded progressive citizen. He declared that it is said that Cruce has to this day refused to put down a sidewalk along part of his home place in Ardmore and has always managed to kill any proposition to pave the street. He also called attention to Cruce's stand in favor of abolishing some of the state schools and to the report often repeated in the past few years that Cruce opposed the establishment of public free schools in Ardmore in territorial days.

The speaker referred to what other states are doing, notably Illinois with $60,000,000 and Michigan $50,000,000 for roads, either voted already or soon to be voted on, and still others preparing to vote on larger amounts.

The county unit has proved a failure, since the roads are necessarily limited to the county boundaries and the adjoining counties seldom meeting the one that builds, hence the state unit is the only practical one. He mentioned the various provisions of the measure, pointing out the ways and means of raising the funds and how most if not all will be paid from automobile and gross production taxes. He declared that he wants to see the pioneers of the state get some of the benefits of the roads now and not wait for the next generation to build after the present one has passed away.

Col. Sidney Suggs based the main part of his argument on the cost of the present system to the tax payers for which they get no returns worth mentioning. In 1912, during his term as highway commissioner, sworn reports from the various counties showed that the sum of $4,105,299.84 was spent on roads and he estimates that no less than $7,000,000 annually is being spent now. As most of this goes for dirt roads they are soon washed out and the money wasted. The same money would go a long way toward paying for permanent roads.

It is doubtful if any other man in the state is as well informed about the cost of road building than Col. Suggs. He estimates that since much grading has already been done by the various counties the roads proposed in the bond issue can be put down at not more than $12,500 per mile, instead of $23,000 as claimed by opponents of the measure.

Col. Suggs is working for a national highway system and as a beginning in this country the Oil Cities Highway, but incidentally is putting in a few effective blows for the proposed state bond issue.

FINAL PHASE OF PEACE TREATY

LEAGUE COVENANT ADOPTED; GERMAN DELEGATES ARRIVING AT PARIS.

By the Associated Press
PARIS, April 29.—The stage is being set for the final phase of peace negotiations. Yesterday's plenary session stamped its approval on the league of nations covenant while today Germany's delegates are expected to arrive at Versailles to join the members of the German mission already there numbering about eighty-seven. The Italian parliament meets today and it is expected that Premier Orlando will appear and lay before it the situation which arose in Paris. The action of parliament will be in effect a mandate to the Orlando ministry, it being reported that there is being an effort to secure a unanimous vote. On resolution demanding that Italy's claims be recognized. If this is done it is probable that Orlando and the remainder of the Italian delegation will return immediately to Paris.

LABOR HAS AN INNING

PEACE CONFERENCE COMMISSION REPORTS ON LABOR LEGISLATION.

By the Associated Press
WASHINGTON, April 29.—Nine clauses proposed by the Commission on International Labor Legislation for insertion in the peace treaty as adopted yesterday by the peace conference plenary session were made public by the state department today, include principles for "an eight hour day, abolition of child labor, equality of pay for men and women and workmen's right of association for all lawful purposes."

RUNAWAY HORSES CAUSE EXCITEMENT

At 2:15 this afternoon pandemonium broke loose and knocked a few boards off the walls of folks' frigid-box in the alley between Main and Tenth. A team, hitched to a wagon, became frightened and ran at a startling speed straight down the alley from Townsend. The last seen of the fleeing beasts was a cloud of dust and a wailing seat cutting gyrations through the air. In several instances life insurance policies came near maturing, the inquisitive contingent of population being too anxious to get a near first-hand view of the occurrence.

This is a fine argument against good roads. Had the alley, which is now paved, been in its former condition and like hundreds of miles of the public roads all over the county, it would have been impossible for this runaway to have occurred—the horses would have stuck in the mud and been easily overtaken by their master.

Later—The animals turned north when near the Katy tracks and were caught by J. A. Crane as they raced through his garden. The only damage noted was the loss of two spokes in a rear wheel.

NEW YORK, April 29.—Senator Henry Cabot Lodge of Massachusetts, who passed through here today on his way to Washington, said he was convinced President Wilson would be compelled to call an extra session of Congress before July 1 due to the failure of Congress to pass necessary financial bills at its last session.

ADA TOWN

The News believes in giving both sides a hearing and one day this week will publish the arguments for and against the proposed $50,000,000 road bond issue so that the public may judge the merits of the proposition. They will also appear in the Weekly News. These arguments are the official ones drawn and submitted by the leaders of the respective sides.

From darkest Russia there comes a slight thrill of hope in the reported success of the armies of the Siberian government operating against the bolsheviks. The world is praying that the Lenin-Trotsky nightmare be ended soon and that sanity may take the place of the delirium of which the people have been victims. Russia is like a mighty engine whose governor has been broken, flying to pieces with its own momentum.

Republican spellbinders have for half a century denounced the South for not giving the negro more political recognition. Prominent members of the race in New York are now demanding of Republican leaders that a negro be placed on the next State ticket. They point out that all the recognition the race has had in the state has been the election of one presidential elector in 1864 and two more of more recent years as members of the legislature. The negroes consider that altogether too small a recognition of the 20,000,000 votes polled by the race and want a look in on the pie counter. Naturally the C. O. P. leaders are not as enthusiastic about this matter in their own state as they would be if the demand were made in a southern state. In that case a whole ocean of crocodile tears would be shed over the injustice done the race.

PROS AND CONS OF ZIONISM.

(From Independent.)
How complicated and how perplexing are the questions involved in the proposition to convert Palestine into an independent and self-sufficient political state is every day being demonstrated by the conflicting utterances of the ablest spokesmen of the Jewish race and in a lesser, but not negligible measure by other declarations. To cite particularly interesting instances we have the opinion of Prof. Thomas Nickson Carver of Harvard, that this is a propitious time for the establishment of a great Jewish commonwealth; and, in opposition to this Christian view, the warning put forth by that intelligent and cultivated Jewish scholar, Sir Charles Wastson, (formerly Waldstein) that radicalism alias nationalism (or radicalism become identified with nationalism and leaning to Chavinsm) is the most dangerous force in the world today.

The Jews, Sir Charles argues, are peculiarly fitted to develop an international patriotism in behalf of the League of Nations. "Kinship," he truly says, "is not measured merely by blood, but by agreement in deeds and by pursuit of the same end." Jerusalem, Sir Charles believes, will be the proper abode for a great Hebrew school and university, a central library preserving Biblical, Rabbinical and Yiddish literature, and a museum of Jewish antiquities and art, but it should not be the capital of a Jewish state. He more than hints that such a state would raise a question in the world politics of tomorrow not unlike the Irish question in the British imperial politics of today.

The consideration that most influences Prof. Carver is the impossibility of maintaining racial distinctness where races are intermingled. Jews and Gentiles if intermingled must either intermarry and amalgamate or develop race hostility as a defense against amalgamation. To keep themselves distinct the Jews may resort to occupational separation, thereby avoiding economic competition with Gentiles, or they may perpetuate such partial territorial separations as the Ghetto and the Pale, or, finally, they may accept the complete separation of Zionism. The Pale is thoroughly discredited, and occupational separation of races verges on a system of caste. Substantially, therefore, the alternatives come down to this, the Jews must accept Zionism or they must accept amalgamation.

These two opinions we judge, are fairly representative of the fundamental conflict of views. On the whole the conservative Jews who desire above all things to maintain the old Jewish faith and the Talmudic tradition, incline to be Zionists. The progressive Jews, the men who deprecate racial distinction and hostilities and whose political and economic sympathies incline to nationalism, would prefer to see Jews intermarry and amalgamate with their Gentile fellow citizens in Europe and America and are disposed to discourage the Zionist experiment. Yet the Zionist movement has also attracted the support of many of the radical Jews who see in it an opportunity to found a semi-socialistic state for which the land and labor legislation of the Mosaic code affords a certain authority.

AMERICANIZATION—

(From Country Gentleman.)

There are two kinds of illiterates, both dangerous to democracy.

One of these is the person who cannot read or write. To all intents and purposes he is intellectually blind. Others must see for him and lead him. And too often it is the selfish politician or the scheming crook who volunteers as the pilot.

The other illiterate is the one who cannot read or write English. He may be well educated in his native tongue, but he is blind in the language of the country in which he is living. He too largely depends on hearsay of American institutions and too often it is prepared for him in his language paper by parasites who fatten upon his ignorance.

During the war men who were living here, rearing families here, and even voting here, sided with the fatherland which they had renounced. Naturally we thought they would fight for their homes, but we had not reckoned with the clever propagandists of the kaiser, who knew that the home is where the language is.

There is only one weapon with which to fight off this peril, and that is publicity. By a liberal use of truth we definitely checked the imperial liars, but did not permanently squelch them. They failed to surrender when the German army and navy did, and they are still at work exciting the sparks of Bolshevism all over the world. They are yet to be definitely and decisively vanquished, but we have found the country. It is some more of the instrument to do it with in this same remedy to be administered by the proposed-Smith-Bankhead Americanization Bill. This measure proposes to educate every resident of America to read English.

The bill is well drawn. It provides that a maximum of $12,500,000 a year may be spent by the government for salaries of teachers to educate illiterates. The money is to be hung up as a sort of prize for states, which must match their allotment with an equal amount, and must pass state laws making the attendance of illiterate minors compulsory for at least 200 hours a year or until the pupils reach the third grade. The bill has the support of the Department of the Interior and the Bureau of Education.

We have always said that education was the foundation of democracy and it is, and here is the opportunity to cement every loose joint in our national foundation—the chance to make this the most intelligent nation in the world. Just now the foundation is nothing to brag about. All told we have 8,000,000 persons who fall within the two classes of illiterates, a number exceeding the total population of fifteen states, or the combined population of Greater New York, Philadelphia and Chicago. Such a multitude constitutes a national menace. They must be taught to read the language of America—for their protection and ours.

The head that wears the crown may lie uneasily on the pillow, according to the ancient proverb, but just now an uncrowned one is restless. This is the head of Bill Hohenzollern, late war lord of Germany, and aspirant for world rulership. The allied peace conference is arranging to put him on trial for his crimes against international law and he has good reason to feel apprehensive, for he knows full well that there is plenty of evidence to warrant a conviction. A bunch of his arrogant officers will also face trial for some of their barbarous conduct and there may be a wholesale shooting of these worthies, leaving a better atmosphere in Europe when they are no longer permitted to pollute it with their foul presence. Wilhelm and his henchmen had a beautiful plan all laid out for ruling the universe, but somehow the cards did not turn up right when the big stakes were on the table and now comes the time when a settlement will be made and an example set for others who would follow in their footsteps.

As we have said before it costs more to live in a hustling state like Oklahoma and a wide awake young city like Ada than it does in some sleepy old states and towns where everything is half a century behind, but for the difference the town pays to pay the difference and get the benefits of a progressive community. Ada is a place of few years and much growth and ever so often outgrows her public utilities and has to enlarge them accordingly, especially in the case of schools and waterworks. However, the taxable values are also increasing and this helps to pay the bill. There is no doubt about having to increase the capacity of the waterworks in the near future or else the city will be up against it. Ada is out of the village class and must govern herself according to changing conditions. One can't get away from cold facts even when the facts are most disagreeable as they are when it comes to spending a lot of money.

In his Muskogee speech Governor Robertson made a fine point when he said that he knew that the women of the state will vote for the road bonds, because the women are without exception always in favor of any progressive measure. That's a fine tribute to women and it is true. It was not a matter of flattery with the governor. Women everywhere are always for civic or economic progress. It is the men, not women, who retard progress. We have yet to find the first woman who will say she is not for hard surfaced roads in Oklahoma, and the sooner the better.—Muskogee Times-Democrat.

If there is anything in the report that an effort will be made to put through congress a measure prohibiting soldiers from overseas wearing chevrons indicating their service, wounds, etc., the News hopes to see it die early. There is no valid reason why these soldiers should not wear these insignia, since they certainly went through enough in earning them and should by all means have the privilege of wearing them. However, we do not think congress would be guilty of committing an act of such gross injustice.

This talk of Campbell Russell's about forcing the governor to call a special session of the legislature or initiating a good roads bill, in case the bond issue fails, is all bosh as Russell himself must know. A previous legislature passed a measure introduced by Russell himself under the terms of which all initiated measures shall be voted on only at a general election. Hence, if the bond issue fails there can be no more legislation for two years.

THRILLING SCENES IN LILLIAN GISH'S NEW WAR PICTURE.

Superb Griffith-Artcraft Picture, "The Greatest Thing in Life."

One of the most remarkable scenes that has thus far been shown on the screen, is in D. W. Griffith's new Artcraft photoplay, "The Greatest Thing in Life," with Lillian Gish in the stellar part which will be shown at the American theater Thursday. The war has swept over a French village in which a young French-American girl, Jeanette Peret, the character portrayed by Lillian Gish, is living with her father. Hammered by the death storm from the great guns, they have taken refuge in an underground dugout.

As the French are leaving, pressed back temporarily by the Huns, a French officer shows Jeanette's father how the water jar opens with a secret spring and discloses a telephone.

"When the Huns come," the lieutenant tells the old man, "You can serve France by using it." The old man tries his best to send the message but he is wounded and his daughter undertakes to send it. With the Huns pounding at the door, killing and slaughtering as they come, the girl takes up the field telephone. At first no one will answer.

A last, when it seems as though her heart must burst, a voice comes at the other end of the telephone. It is the voice of the fastidious, dandified young lover from America whom she had flouted. That far-off "hello" heard through shot and shell, means more to her than the hope of rescue from the beasts who are beating down her door; it means that the man she loves has found his soul in the muck and glug of the trenches.

New honors await Miss Gish when this vivid and wonderful emotional scene is presented to the public. She is splendidly supported, her leading man being Robert Harron, an actor of ability and wide popularity.—Adv.

BEFORE OR AFTER INFLUENZA

By Dr. M. Coor

The cool fighter always wins and so there is no need to become panic-stricken. Avoid fear and crowds. Exercise in the fresh air and practise the three C's: a Clean Mouth, a Clean Skin and Clean Bowels. To carry off the poisons that accumulate within the body and to ward off an attack of the influenza bacillus, take a good liver regulator to move the bowels, such as Castor Oil or a pill made up of May-apple, leaves of aloe and root of jalap, to be had at any drug store, and called Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets.

The system should be built up by the use of a good iron tonic, such as "Iron-Tonic" tablets, to be obtained at some drug stores, or that well known blood-maker and herbal tonic made from roots and barks of forest trees—sold everywhere as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery.

For a tonic that will freshen up the blood, clean the digestive tract and put new force and vim into you, I know of nothing better than Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery—and it contains no alcohol or narcotic so is perfectly safe to take.

Oklahoma City, Okla.—"Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has been a family remedy in our family for years. My father had a severe cough following pneumonia. He was told to use 'Golden Medical Discovery' and by following up faithfully to the extent of four bottles he was cured.

"Last winter when I had a cough I took the 'Discovery' and it cured me in a short time. In fact, all our family use it whenever we have a hard cold or coughs."

GREEN FANCY

CHAPTER XVIII.

Mr. Sprouse Continues to Be Perplexed, but Puts His Nose to the Ground.

Barnes was abroad early. He was at breakfast when Peter Ames called up. An inspiration seized him when the chauffeur mentioned the wholesale exodus: he hired Peter forthwith and ordered him to report immediately—with the car. He was going up to Green Fancy for Miss Cameron's wardrobe.

Two minutes after Peter drove up to the Tavern he was on the way back to Green Fancy again, and seated beside him was Thomas Kingsbury Barnes, his new master.

There was not a sign of human life about the place. Peter accompanied him upstairs to the room recently occupied by Miss Cameron.

They found two small leather trunks, thickly belabored, in the room upstairs. Both were locked.

"You take this one," said Barnes, "and I will manage the other." He was in a hurry to get away from the house. There was no telling when the government agents would descend upon the place.

Barnes helped Peter to lift the trunks into the car and then ordered him to start at once for Hart's Tavern.

"You can return later on for your things," he said.

"I got 'em tied up in a bundle in the garage," Mr. Barnes said. "Won't take a second to get 'em out." He hurried around the corner of the house.

A dry, quiet chuckle fell upon Barnes' ears. He glanced about in surprise and alarm. No one was in sight.

"Look up, young man," and the startled young man obeyed. His gaze halted at a window on the second story, almost directly over his head.

Mr. Sprouse was looking down upon him, his sharp features fixed in a sardonic grin.

"Well, I'll be d—!" burst from Barnes' lips.

"Surprised to see me, eh? If you're not in a hurry, I'd certainly appreciate a lift as far as the Tavern, old man. I'll be down in a jiffy. Stand aside! I'm going to drop." A moment later he swung over the sill, and dropped lightly to the ground eight feet below.

"See, here, Sprouse or whatever your name is—"

"Better hear me out," broke in Sprouse calmly. "I could drill a hole through you so quickly you'd never know what did it," he went on. His hand was in his coat pocket, and a quick glance revealed to Barnes a singularly impressive angle in the cloth, the point of which seemed to be directed squarely at his chest. "But I'm not going to do it. I just want to set myself straight with you. In a word, I never got anywhere near the room in which the jewels were hidden. This is God's truth, Barnes. I wasn't the only one who was trying to get the baubles, my friend. It was a game in which only the best man could win."

"I know the truth now about Roon and Paul," said Barnes significantly. "You do?" sneered Sprouse. "I'll bet you a thousand to one you do not. The girl was led to believe that they were a couple of crooks and that they fixed me in that tavern down there. Isn't that what she told you? Well, that story was cooked up for her special benefit. Roon was the Baron Hedlund. Hedlund came up here a week or so ago to keep a lookout for his wife. The baroness is supposed to be deeply enamored of Prince Ugo. He found letters which seemed to indicate that she was planning to join the prince up here. When he heard of the arrival of a lady at Green Fancy the other afternoon, he got busy. I admit that I am the gentleman who telephoned the warning up to the prince. They tried to head the baron and his man off at the cross-roads, but he beat them to it. If there was to be a fight, they didn't want it to happen anywhere near the house. I believe Ugo is the one who got the hapo—or Roon, as you know him. Now, that is the true story of the little affair.

"To go back to my own troubles. When I got out, into the hall night before last, after leaving her room, I heard voices whispering in Prince Ugo's room. I beat it up the stairway into the attic. Nothing happened, so I sneaked down to have a peep around. The door to Ugo's room was open, but there was no light on the inside. He came to the door and looked up and down the hall. Then some one else came out and started to sneak away. I leave you to guess the sex.

"Nicholas bluffed in at this unfortunate juncture. He made the mistake of his life. Ugo jumped back into his room. In less than a second he was out again. He landed squarely on Nicholas' back as the fellow turned to escape. I saw the steel flash. Poor old Nick went down in a heap, letting out a horrible yell. Ugo dragged him into the room and dashed back into his own. A moment later he came out again, yelling for help. There was only one thing left for me to do and that was to get out on the roof if possible, and wait for things to quiet down. I got out through a trap door and stayed there for an hour or so.

"Well, to shorten the story, I finally took a chance and slid down to the caves where I managed to find the limb of a tree big enough to support me—just as if the Lord had ordered it out there for my special benefit. I was soon on the ground, and that meant safety for me. I had heard Ugo tell the others that Nicholas said the man who stabbed him was yours truly. Can you beat it?

"And now comes the maddening part of the whole business. He said that the crown jewels were gone! The thief was running downstairs when he staggered to the door. If we are to find the crown jewels, my friend, we will first have to find Prince Ugo. He has them."

"I don't believe a word of this yarn," said Barnes flatly. "You have the jewels and—"

"Look here, Mr. Barnes, I'm not going to double-cross you again. That's all over. I want to get that scurvy dog who knifed poor old Nick. If you can give me a lead, I'll try to run Prince Ugo down. And if I do, we'll get the jewels."

"We? You amuse me, Sprouse."

"Well, I can't do any more than give my promise, my solemn oath, or something like that. I can't give a bond, you know. I swear to you that if I lay hands on that stuff, I will deliver it to you. Might just as well trust me as Ugo."

"Get in the car," said Barnes suddenly. He had decided to take a chance with the resourceful, indefatigable rascal. There was something convincing about Sprouse's version of the affair at Green Fancy.

Barnes told him that he knew of Prince Ugo's fight. Sprouse looked thoughtful for a long time.

"So O'lowd knows that I really was after the swag, eh? He believes I got it?"

"I suppose so."

"The only one who thinks I'm absolutely innocent is Ugo, of course—and Mrs. Van Dyke. That's good." Sprouse smirked his lips. "I've got a pretty fair idea where I can find Mr. Loeb. It will take a little time—a couple of days, perhaps—but sooner or later he'll turn up in close proximity to the beautiful baroness."

Booze In Medicines To Fool The Sick.

Read the label. You can bank on it if the label reads 18 to 20 per cent alcohol that such a medicine depends on its whiskey effect to sell it. Most of these "wonderful" tonics and "mastermedicines" make the patient feel temporarily better from the stimulating effect while at the same time they are undermining health.

"Number 40 For The Blood" contains but 9 per cent. alcohol and you can not drink it "ad libitum." One teaspoonful is a dose for an adult. It is an old doctor's prescription and has been successfully employed in blood poison, mercurial and lead poisoning, scrofula, rheumatism, catarrh, constipation, liver and stomach troubles. Under its use nodes, tumors, goitre and scrofulous swellings, that have withstood all other treatment, disappear as if by magic.

One thing it would say is: "Don't starve me."

Another: "Don't let me die of thirst."

A third: "Test me often with a hydrometer."

Those are all simple rules, and easy to remember, but to your battery they mean the difference between a long life and a short one.

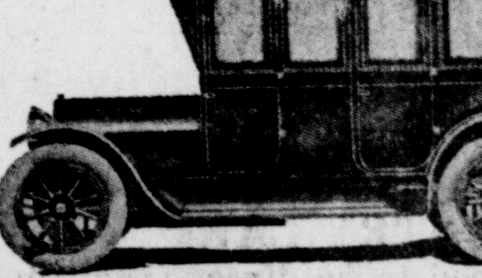

There are other things that ought to be kept in mind if you look after your own battery. It will pay you to ask us what these are the next time you come in for a hydrometer test or to have distilled water put into your battery.

TAFT HOPES TO SEE GOOD ROADS BUILT

OKLAHOMA CITY, April 29.—"Although I am not familiar with the specific provisions of your road bill, I believe the people of Oklahoma should spend $50,000,000 on hard surfaced roads. I believe they should spend it now, and I believe they should spend it on a state-wide system, as your present bill provides."

William Howard Taft, ex-president of the United States, made this statement Sunday morning as he passed through Oklahoma City, after spending a week in Oklahoma studying conditions and making addresses for the League of Nations.

"I am glad Oklahoma is preparing to meet the road problem in the proper way," Mr. Taft continued. "Experience of other states has shown that if the building of roads is left to the different communities or counties not only will progress be much slower but never will the state have a complete and well organized system. The state plan is a better one."

"No, I do not think $50,000,000 is too much to put into this investment at this time. I am in favor of large bond issues for such projects, and it seems to me that Oklahoma should not delay the beginning. Your state is rich now. Your farmers have in prospect a wonderful crop. You have great oil fields with new derricks going up every day and with new fields being opened up."

"You have large wealth coming now, your oil fields will be less large some day and I hope you will not wait to do this important work until this great source of your wealth is gone. If the state of Oklahoma does not provide now in the day of state wealth for a road system, I fear you will not build them."

"I hesitate to take sides on any local question," Mr. Taft concluded, "but I do hope that Oklahoma will not put off at this critical time a matter that means so much to the future growth and prosperity of your state."

NO ROAD MONEY IN STATE TREASURY.

OKLAHOMA CITY, April 29.—Not one dollar of road money is now available in the state treasury. Not a dollar of federal aid money is available because no provision has been made by the state to designate a like amount for road work, in conformity with the agreement between state and nation.

The last legislature failed to appropriate a dollar to be used after July 1st, for convict road camps, therefore all convicts now being worked on public roads in some eighteen Oklahoma counties will be withdrawn July 1st. This situation makes it imperative that the fifty million dollar road bond issue should carry May 6th.

STOMACH GOOD AS NEW. FOUR DOCTORS GAVE HER UP

Mrs. Hendricks, Bedfast Five Months, Was Able to Work in Two Weeks.

"I was sick last winter for five months with stomach and bowel trouble. Could not turn myself in bed without help. I was under the care of four doctors, and they gave me up. Then Mr. Mills, the druggist, persuaded my husband to try a bottle of Milk's Emulsion. I had only taken it two days until I was sitting up in bed, and in two weeks I was doing my own work. When I began taking it, I weighed only 70 pounds; now I weigh 190 pounds."—Mrs. Mary Hendricks, 900 Litchfield Road, Owensboro, Ky.

Thousands of people who have suffered for years from stomach and bowel troubles, have found relief, as Mrs. Hendricks did, almost from the first dose of Milk's Emulsion. And it isn't merely temporary relief, but real, lasting benefit.

Milk's Emulsion is a pleasant, nutritive food and a corrective medicine. It restores healthy, normal bowel action, doing away with all need of pills and physics. It promotes appetite and quickly puts the digestive organs in shape to assimilate food. As a builder of flesh and strength, Milk's Emulsion is strongly recommended to run-down nervous people, and it has produced amazing results in many cases of tuberculosis of the lungs, chronic stomach trouble and constipation are promptly relieved—usually in one day.

This is the only solid emulsion made, and so palatable that it is eaten with a spoon like cream. A truly wonderful medicine for weak, sickly children.

No matter how severe your case, you are urged to try Milk's Emulsion under this guarantee—Take six bottles home with you, use it according to directions and if not satisfied with the results, your money will be promptly refunded. Price 60c and $1.20 per bottle. The Milk Emulsion Co., Terre Haute, Ind. Sold and guaranteed by Gwin & Mays Drug Co. (Adv.)

ROAD BILL IN A NUTSHELL.
A proposed amendment to the Constitution providing a system of durable hard surfaced roads throughout the state, fixing the details of administration and the location of the roads unchangeable, from every important town to every important town in the state.

A bonded commission of two democrats and two republicans, headed by the governor, to carry into effect the details of the plan as laid down in the amendment.

Serial, non-taxable 4 1-2 per cent bonds may be issued only as needed, as the work progresses not to exceed in all fifty million dollars. These bonds must be paid off and cancelled two million dollars annually.

A competent engineering board must be employed and the State will be divided into not less than ten districts and the work must begin and move to completion in each district at the same time.

The credit of the State is pledged. First, the State's portion of motor vehicle tax; second, two-thirds of gross production tax; third, the income tax, or so much of these taxes as may be necessary.

A system of maintenance is provided by taxing about owners of lands, railroads, pipe lines, etc. The roads must be such as will not depreciate more than ten per centum each five years.

An advisory Board of at least twenty citizens of the State are to be appointed, to serve without compensation, to have full access to all books, plans, regulations and records of the Commission and shall meet from time to time with the Commission and advise the same.

A local Board of three citizens are to be appointed to be furnished with all plans and specifications and to have access in and about all the work at all times and note any failures or default in the work and report the same with advice to the Commission.

29TH ENGINEERS MAKING MAP.

PARIS, March 24.—The Twenty-ninth Engineers of the American Expeditionary Force are conducting some interesting experiments in map making and reproducing in the field. With a five-ton truck as a printing and lithographing establishment they have succeeded in turning out 10,000 copies of a field map in an hour. The French and British are taking a keen interest in the American outfit as they have used a railway train for such work and their best output has been about 300 copies per hour. Furthermore a railway train is limited in operation to available trackage while there virtually is no limitation to the mobility of the truck.

In some operations of this war every man in a trench raid party had been furnished with a map of the sector involved so the importance of quick map making is very great. The quick development and prompt reproduction in quantity of air photographs is also a phase of these experiments.

AMERICAN RED CROSS INVADES JUGO-SLAVIA

BELGRADE, SERBIA, March 25.—(By Mail).—There has been an American invasion of Jugo-Slav territory. In every city from Durazzo in Albania, to Strumitza, in Serbia, and reaching from Belgrade to Zagreb the jewel of Jugo-Slavia, American Red Cross officers, physicians and nurses, and representatives of the food administration and of the army, may be seen. All are engaged in the big task of feeding and clothing the people in the areas which have suffered most by the war. The United States has been likened to a bountiful mother caring for a flock of small children—the children being the bany Balken countries comprising what one day is expected to become greater Jugo-Slavia.

At a hundred points in Serbia, Montenegro, Albania, Bosnia, Herzegovina and Croatia, the American Red Cross is giving the people a taste of American generosity. Food, clothing, shoes and medicines are being distributed to the destitute. American physicians and nurses are caring for the sick and wounded. By their work and their example, these Americans are inculcating in the Slav, new ideas of thrift, self-help, cleanliness and honesty, which must have a lasting influence.

The population of these countries is composed of many diverse races. The individual ambitions of the different Slav countries have been sacrificed in a desire to keep Italy from obtaining Dalmatia, or any part of the Eastern Adriatic coast. The eyes of all are turned to America which they regard as the greatest sponsor for the unity and integrity of the Slavic nations.

ESCAPED RUSSIAN DESCRIBES CONDITIONS

WITH AMERICAN FORCES IN NORTH RUSSIA, Feb. 24. (Correspondence of The Associated Press).—Russian soldiers returning from Germany to their homes in Northern Russia find their fatherland vastly changed since they went to war. Scores of these soldiers are passing through the Bolshevik lines and making their way to the American and other allied posts.

They tell tales of pitiful suffering from hunger in the villages through which they passed. One of them, F. Evlanpief, of Archangel, thus describes his experiences when he returned from Germany:

"At Petrograd we were sent to barracks, where a Bolshevik commissar started to read us the Soviet program. The prisoners protested.

"Give us first something to eat, and then read us your program," they cried.

"Then the commissar gave up trying to read the program, saying we were not fit elements for propaganda, and he left us. Each of us received 25 rubles in advance on his salary.

"Famine was reigning in Petrograd. The first category (working people of Bolshevik tendencies) received one pound of oats daily. The second category received one-half pound. The citizens grind the oats in coffee mills, to make flour for bread. For Christmas the Petrograd inhabitants received two potatoes for each person. A slice of bread is sold for 25 rubles. There was no tobacco. People smoked cabbage and nettles.

"The situation at Volodga was the same as in Petrograd. It was famine and the population stood in line for bread sometimes for two days. There was no private commerce. The shops were empty."

On his way from Volodga toward Archangel a commissar tried to coax Evlanpief into serving in the Red Army and, on his refusal sent him back to Volodga. A peasant hid him in a load of hay and carried him to his uncle's home in Torozk. In the villages he passed through, he said, there was famine. The peasants cut straw, cook it and make bread. Eventually after a long journey on foot through the snow Evlanpief reached his home in Archangel.

When such prisoners reach the territory of the Provisional Government of the North they are cared for as well as possible. Many of them voluntarily have joined the White Guard Army because of their hatred for the Bolsheviks.

SURGEONS agree that in cases of Cuts, Burns, Bruises and Wounds, the FIRST TREATMENT is most important. When an EFFICIENT antiseptic is applied promptly, there is no danger of infection and the wound begins to heal at once. For use on man or beast, BOROZONE is the IDEAL ANTISEPTIC and HEALING AGENT. But it now can be ready for an emergency. Price 25c, 50c, $1.00 and $1.50. Sold by Bart Smith.

NEGRO LIEUTENANT A SANE SPEAKER.

Long before the hour set for the speaking at the Court House it was packed to hear the message of the negro lieutenant who has just returned from the front. In the audience was quite a representative number of whites. I. B. McCutcheon, principal of the local colored school, acted as master of ceremonies and in a few well chosen remarks presented State Senator Harrison who in a quite befitting manner introduced the speaker. In his introduction of the speaker Senator Harrison praised the valor of the negro in the wars of the past and his gallantry and bravery in the recent world conflict. He prophesied a new era for the negro, based upon his part in the great struggle for justice and democracy.

Lieutenant Corbett advised his people to make themselves not only agreeable citizens, but worthy of trust in every walk of life. He condemned the idle and shiftless negro, as he asserted that it was largely from that class that mobs originated. He assured the whites that the returned negro came back a full fledged loyal citizen. He appealed to his people to endeavor to live upright and clean lives, to economize and to secure a job and stick to it.

His address was one of wise counsel and an inspiration to his people.

IF YOU HAD JUST ONE WISH—

What would you ask for if the gods decreed that the one thing you wanted you could have?

You'd want the greatest thing in life, wouldn't you?

Well, what is the greatest thing in life?

Victory? Money? Love? The Distinguished Service Cross? The Sight of home at the end of the war? Or is it——the glorious thing that an unenvied American youth found in France in the midst of battle, the thing that brought him all that's really worth while? Is it that?

D. W. Griffith has that answer for you in his newest production.

Lillian Gish and Robert Harron are in it and the great creator of "The Birth of a Nation," "Intolerance," "Hearts of the World" and "The Great Love" with his magic has woven around them a motion picture story that takes its fit place among the photoplay masterpieces that will live forever.

Dear Mother and All:

Well, I am in the Mare Island Training Station, got in about 10:30 last night. We left Great Lakes about 2:00 o'clock p. m., on the tenth and got here at 10:30 p. m. on the 14th. We came through Nevada, Wyoming, Nebraska, Idaho, Illinois, Iowa, and California. Surely was a fine trip and I hated to see it end so soon. We only stopped at places where there were canteens and we always got cigarettes, candy, gum, doughnuts, oranges and everything good to eat. I don't think we stopped over 25 times during the entire twenty-four hundred miles. The large towns we passed through were Chicago, Council Bluffs, Iowa, Omaha, Neb., Cheyenne, Wyo., Ogden, Idaho, and Sacramento, Cal. We left Great Lakes at 2:00 p. m. and left Chicago at 4:30 p. m. and then traveled across Illinois arriving in Clinton, Iowa, about 9:00 and were treated by the Red Cross. We reached Council Bluffs, Iowa, about 8:00 a. m., on the eleventh and the Red Cross gave us cigarettes and other things. At Omaha another Red Cross was eaten out. Here we changed from the Northwestern R. R. to the Union Pacific. We stopped in about four towns in Nebraska and from one end of the state to another there is nothing but prairie and the only trees are planted. We were in deep snow in Nebraska, some places where the road was cut through the snow was nearly up to the car windows. We went into Wyoming at night and passed through Cheyenne when we were all asleep. On the morning of the 13th we were in the Rocky Mountains but they were not so pretty except in some places. We saw miles of sage brush and thousands of prairie dogs. We got into Ogden, Idaho, at 6:30 p. m., on the 13th and were served by the Red Cross but some of the fellows were like animals and stole some cakes and we all got the benefit of their dirty trick. We crossed Great Salt Lake about 8:00 p. m., and it was dark so we could not see much of it. There was a stiff wind blowing the waves nearly upon the trucks. The bridge over the lake is about 25 miles long. On the morning of the 14th we were out of the Rockies and on the desert and it was real dusty but as white as snow in some places. About noon we hit the Sierra Nevada mountains where we had to be pulled up the mountains by two engines and went through about 40 miles of snow sheds. The mountains were covered with snow and tall pines, passing through a snow storm we then came down on the California side where it was nice and warm. When we reached San Francisco they then put the train on a ferry and then crossed, a little later we got off and got on a steamer and went to Mare Island which was the end of a glorious trip.

I want all of you to write soon. Love to all. RALPH ADAIR.

BRITISH BARRISTERS OPPOSE ADMISSION OF WOMEN. LONDON, March 31 (Correspondence of The Associated Press).—British conservatism sometimes finds strange obstacles in the path of progress. One of these threats the proposal now before Parliament, and strongly supported by a former Lord Chancellor, Lord Buckmaster, for the admission of women to the bar to practice as barristers. It is the ancient requirement that candidates for the bar must eat a certain number of dinners in one of the Inns of Court of the Temple to qualify to take their parts in the administration of the law.

There are four of these Inns, each maintains a large mess. Every student must be enrolled in one, and must dine there a fixed minimum of evenings before he may appear in court in wig and gown.

The admission of women would ruffle the old traditions and bring in a new and unwelcome atmosphere, say the objectors. The messes are subdivided into parties of four who combine on wine, rations, and they ask how could the other sex fit into this arrangement? No racial lines are drawn in the Temple. Many natives of Africa, of India, and all the races of the Orient and other faraway lands, are admitted and sit harmoniously at the tables with the British members and candidates of the courts. But the suggestion of throwing down the barrier of sex seems to the barristers an alarming innovation.

Just why the eating of dinners should be a necessary feature of training for the legal profession is a mystery to the outsider. But the higher caste of the legal trade union is a close corporation and a law to itself.

That Hood tire is some tire.

KAROLYI A MAN OF DEEP DUPLICITY.

LONDON, April 2. (Correspondence of The Associated Press).—The prominence given to Count Karolyi, the Hungarian Premier who is credited here with turning the government of that country over to the Bolsheviks, has recalled to one of his London acquaintances that he is a "millionaire rasing man, never weary of reminding Europe that one of his ancestors was executed by Francis Joseph as a rebel in 1849 for having taken up arms against Austria in the name of Magyar liberty."

"The present Count Karolyi," continues the correspondent writing to a newspaper, "is always careful to conceal the fact that he has always been at one with the other Magyar magnates on one point, namely, the keeping under of the subject peoples by the Magyars. He has often paraded his friendship for the Entente, but as a hussar officer he fought eagerly against the Russian, Serbian, Rumanian and Italian."

With the duplicity of a Tisza, Karolyi has not even the excuse of fanatical conviction, whether political or religious. He is a time server, always playing to the gallery for his own end, which may be summed up in the phrase, "popularity at any cost." To secure the plaudits of the mob for his racing colors, is his prime political consideration. So now he comes out as the super-patriot and Socialist."

"IT WAS ONE GRAND SURPRISE," SHE SAYS

MISS BOHNE DECLARES SHE FEELS FIVE YEARS YOUNGER SINCE TAKING TANLAC.

"I have gained twelve pounds on two bottles of Tanlac and feel all of five years younger," said Miss Navonnie H. Bohn, of 1514 Everett St., Houston, Texas.

"I was in such a rundown condition," she explained, "that most everything I would eat gave me trouble. My food would sour on my stomach and form gas that made me miserable for hours. My nerves were all on edge so I got little rest at night. I had terrible headaches and felt so wretched and no-account that I hardly had any life or energy left."

"I heard so many people talking about the good Tanlac has done them that I decided to try it, and it has made a new person out of me. My complexion has cleared up. I have no trouble with my digestion and I sleep like a baby. Tanlac has been a fine thing for me, and I am glad to recommend it."

Tanlac is sold in Ada by Gwin & Mays Drug Company.—Adv.

STEEDMAN.

We had another good rain last Friday and Saturday and Saturday nights, which will be a great benefit to gardens and small grain, and will not hurt the corn which is looking the best.

Several of the Steedman Odd Fellows attended the anniversary of the Odd Fellows' One Hundredth birthday in the United States. Among them were Frank Cozad and wife, Edgar Cotner and mother, I. N. Flood, G. C. Cotner, Nathan Hughes and wife, C. A. Heney and wife, Bud Blackburn and wife, Allen Blackburn, Tommy Blackburn and wife, and several other boys.

J. B. Kite has been drilling wells in town the last few days, having drilled three, and now is talking of leaving the county for a while with his drill.

W. D. Cummins lacks a few days' work and then from Steedman to Ada will be one of as good roads if not the best in the county. Only a short time ago everyone was talking bad roads. Now all are bragging on the good road. If we had started Mr. Cummings out last fall he would have all the state highway completed and all parties satisfied.

All parties from Steedman are PROUD of the one Pontotoc county boy who did the dare devil act in the air with his airplane. It would have made a New York banker's son look small in the eyes of his home folks and if the Lieutenant keeps on in the pace he has started out we will hear more from him in the future.

Not much sickness around at present. Ab Brunley and family are reported better and able to sit up. W. D. Cummins has decided that he can't run his car without gasoline, no matter how good the roads. After trying it for two hours in Friday's rain and then sending for a team to pull him in, claiming a breakdown, only to find that he was out of gas. PIONEER.

What "30" Signifies. By frequent references to it, noted by newspaper readers, doubtless the meaning of that cabalistic symbol "30" has become familiar to many, but this incident and explanation printed in connection with the obsequies of Sir Wilfred Laurier make an item in the Montreal La Patrie, and is thence translated.

What does that signify? was asked by thousands who filed past the casket of Sir Wilfred Laurier and had remarked the bouquet of flowers upon which lay the symbol "30" in red figures. This floral tribute was given by members of the press gallery in the Dominion Parliament. For them this number means the same as the words which the great departed pronounced some days after being stricken by his malady, "It is ended." (C'est fini.) The origin of this conventional symbol has been lost in the traditions of journalism, but here is what the older operators declare it is:

Many years ago the old Western Union Telegraph company published a code of signs for their operators. The figure 7, for example, signified "wait a minute," the figure 8, "I'm busy on the line," the number 17, "I'm sending an important message. It ought to have precedence," and so on until finally 30 indicated the end of the message.

Journalists have never been able to devise a better symbol in all the companies of the world having telegraph codes. After each night and at the end of every day the conventional "30" traverses the continent from end to end. Editors in time adopted the sign "30" to inform the staff of the various news departments and the composing room that all the "copy" was finished and that there would be nothing additional.

Finally, for newspaper men, the number "30" meant "It is the end." For us, who every day collect the news of the entire world, "30" signifies also "C'est fini."—Pittsburgh Dispatch.
